

Participate in the Early Reading Challenge.

Build early literacy skills

Smart Power is the Dolly Parton Imagination Library books and adults in our community reading to children. Encouraging children to love books at an early age is a powerful tool. That mixed with time spent with a nurturing caregiver is a quality learning experience.

CHALLENGE: Adults are to read 100 books to young children over a three month period in the Early Reading Challenge. Each time a book is read; record it by coloring in one heart. For each 100 books read and recorded your name will be entered into a raffle for a prize drawn on May 1, 2012.

All adults are eligible to participate, that includes preschool teachers, daycare providers and grandparents.

Name _____
Address _____
Phone _____ E-mail _____

After 100 Books are read, mail to:
E John Gavras Center
182 North Street
Auburn, NY 13021

Contact Nancy Tehan
at Success By 6
(315)255-2746
or www.gavrascenter.com

It's never too early to read to a child